

Beginning Oil Painting with Tanya Harsch

Supply List:

Paints (oils):

ivory black

titanium white

naphthol red medium

hansa yellow light

(if you already have paints, you can use what you have)

Brushes: bristle, a mix of 6-12 shapes and sizes: numbers vary in meaning from company to company these days, basically, you want a range of sizes, get one at least as large as your thumb, one that almost looks like you could write with it as you would a pencil, and a selection in-between. (Again, if you already have brushes, bring what you have!)

Palette or palette paper, palette knife, 8x10" canvas or panel

Optional: gloves, paper towels, old jar to hold brushes, dish soap (for clean up).
